

Try again once you are ready.

Required to pass: 80% or higher
You can retake this quiz up to 3 times every 8 hours.

Back to Week 1

Retake

1. Which chapter in man contains information about standard user commands?

1 / 1 point

1

Correct

Chapter 1 contains standard user commands

3

7

2

2. Which commands get a list of all man pages named "file" (Select all answers that apply)?

0 / 1 point

$ what is file

This should not be selected whatis is one word, not two

$ apropos file

Un-selected is correct

$ man -k file

Un-selected is correct

$ whatis file

This should be selected

3. Select the true statements about getting documentation on echo (Select all answers that apply).

0 / 1 point

help echo gives the information about the system utility at /usr/bin/echo or /bin/echo

This should not be selected

help always gives information about the built-in commands man echo gives the information about the system utility at /usr/bin/echo or /bin/echo

This should be selected

help echo gives the information about the command embedded in the bash shell

This should be selected

man echo gives the information about the command embedded in the bash shell

Un-selected is correct

4. Which of the following are command line help utilities?

0 / 1 point

help

Correct

help is run from the command line

info

This should be selected

man

This should be selected

linuxdoc

Un-selected is correct

explain

Un-selected is correct

5. To get a short help message about a command such as ls, listing options and arguments, type

1 / 1 point

ls-help ls/?

ls --help

Correct

This gives a brief listing of options and usage

ls help

help ls

